WAR AGAINST HOHENZOLLERNS

French Deputy Strikes Keynote Which is Likely to Spread

BE NO ARMED TRUCE

French Nation Aroused to Frenzy—Will Make no Treaty With Kaiser or His Family

Paris, Aug. 4.—Joseph Reinach, a well-known deputy, has launched in the Figaro what, in the opinion of many well-informed persons here, is likely to become the allied watchword, "Away with the Hohenzollerns!"

"The allies," says Reinach, "will agree here shall be no treaty with William of Hohenzollern or with any member of his family. Unless I am greatly mistaken, the question of the Hohenzollerns will become more important every day. It is too vague to speak of destroying German militarism. German militarism is the house of Hohenzollern, with its feudal castes and all its birds of prey.

"I have shown twenty times that the war is the personal work of the German Emperor. Exactly when he began to premeditate it even he does not know.

"But it is a fact that he had taken his stand November 6, 1913, when he unbosomed himself to the Belgian King about the necessity of war soon and his certainty of success."

"It is a fact that finally, as the accomplice of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia, the Kaiser's own hand abolished all chance of peace. He refused the conference proposed by England and the arbitration of The Hague offered by the Czar, and declared war on Russia at the very moment when the Vienna government had welcomed Petrograd's proposals. And this though every pretext had vanished.

"Since the drive through Belgium failed and his bright dream of victory vanished, since the German nation rises hungry and bears the hatred of the world, while the horizon is lowering with menace, the German Emperor is afraid and says, 'I willed it not.'

"Then who did will it? His feudal chiefs, his junkers, the crown prince and his Agrarians willed it, too, but the Germany of the Hohenzollerns is no aristocracy, oligarchy, or democracy, There is one lord and master, the Hohenzollern, the Emperor. It is he who willed, who ordered, who began this war. He is the master assassin. British Premier Asquith has said this in solemn declaration before the House of Commons.

"Over a year ago in the verdict on the Lusitania the jury at Kinsale pronounced guilty of wholesale murder the officers of the submarine, the German government and the Emperor of Germany. All those generals, those officers, those soldiers are only his tools and accomplices.

"We will not make our peace a mere truce between two slaughters. We will insure the future of free peoples. But with him who premeditated, willed and ordered all these crimes, one does not negotiate. Him one judges."

HORSE STOLEN.

Chief of Police Goods, of this city, has received a telegram from J. C. Dunn, of Quantico, in which the latter states that a black horse was stolen from him last night by one or two men, who could not be identified. The police are on the look out for the thieves. The horse, when stolen, was bridled, but had no saddle.

TURKEY WANTS TO QUIT

Willing to Make Peace on Humiliating Terms

London, Aug. 4—It is reported on high authority that Turkey wants to quit the war and that the Ottoman government has indicated to Great Britain an abject willingness to make peace on the most humiliating terms.

Great Britain, however, even if it desired to accept Turkey's offer, is unable to do so because it has given pledges to her allies that it will make peace only in conjunction with its allies.

For this reason Turkey will be unable at the present time, at least, to make the best of a bad bargain and once again come under the wing of its old protector. It is considered in London that the "sick man of Europe," realizing that he is about to be severed from the European portion of the Ottoman empire, is now ready to sue for peace at any price.

Turkey, it is known, has just about reached the end of its tether. Not only has the Constantinople government "nailed" all the German efforts to induce it to send troops to the relief of Austria, but even the 30,000 Turks in the pay of the Bulgarian army have refused to fight.

The losses suffered by the Turks in the fighting of the past month has been a crushing blow to the hopes of the Ottoman government, one from which it is declared she will not be able for some time to recover.

This setback at the hands of the troops of the czar and the financial straits of the government has, it is said, brought the Ottoman government to the realization that to continue the struggle would mean nothing less than hopeless ruin in the end. For this reason Turkey wants to make peace at any terms.

RICHMOND TAX CONTEST

Court of Appeals Grants City Writ of Error and Supersedeas

Richmond, Aug. 4—The Supreme Court of Appeals has awarded a writ of error and supersedeas to the City the judgment of the Hustings Court, the Judgment of the Hustings Court, entered on July 20, sustaining the contention of the Drewry-Hughes Company, dry goods jobbers, that the assessment by the city of $1.40 on each $100 of the firm's capital stock was in excess of the rate alowed by law on the taxable intangible personal property of merchants. Judge Richardson held that the rate of 30 cents on each $100 was the corrrect one, and ordered that a tax of $600 be assessed against the company's capital stock of $200,000.

It is contended on the part of the city that a rate of taxation to be followed by local communities it prescribed under the terms of the segregation act of 1915, only for such intangible personal property as is expressly segregated and made subject to State taxation only. and that the same act provides that "capital of merchants shall not be subject to State taxation, but may be taxed locally as prescribed by law."

City Attorney Pollard points out that Richmond for many years has not levied a license tax on merchants, but, in lieu thereof, has taxed their capital. The rate of $1.40 was fixed by ordinance in April, 1915.

The suit was instituted by the Drewry-Hughes Company, which complained first that the assessment of its capital at $200,000 was excessive and should be reduced; and, second, that the rate of $1.40 per $100 was contrary to law.

GERMANS SHOOT IRISH.

London, Aug. 3.— Baron Newton, under secretary for foreign affairs, replying to a question in the House of Lords of Parliament as to whether the government had any information concerning the shooting of two Irish soldiers while prisoners of war in Germany said:

"The American Embassy in Berlin notified the government on July 7, that Patrick Moran, of the Connought Rangers, had been shot by a guard at the working camp near Limburg on May 28. The commandant of the camp told the American representative that Moran, while intoxicated, attacked a guard, who shot him dead in self defense.

"It is important to note, that, according to our information, both soldiers had refused to join Roger Casement in his proposed expedition to Ireland."

GERMANS LOSING BEFORE VERDUN

French Reoccupy Fleury, and Extend Trenches Daily

BRITISH ALSO GAIN

Positions Gained by Crown Prince This Week Are Suddenly Wrested From His Grasp

London, Aug. 4—The left wing of the British army engaged in the Somme offensive gained some ground during the night as the result of minor operations west of the village of Pozieres, General Haig reported to the war office this afternoon.

Paris, Aug. 4—In a most violent battle northeast of Verdun last night the Germans suffered enormous losses in repeated counter attacks with massed formations, it was officially announced this afternoon.

London, Aug. 4—The French counter-offensive northeast of Verdun yesterday reached its climax in a powerful blow, which has resulted in the complete recapture of Fleury and the whole system of highly organized defenses from Southeast of Thiamumont to the Froid Terre Ridge

British troops gained ground by a bombing attack north of Bazentin-Le Petit.

After a series of almost uninterrupted attacks during the night and in the forenoon on the four-mile front from the Meuse to the woods west of Damloup, the French yesterday afternoon concentrated all their power in a tremendous thrust on the one-mile Thiaumont-Fleury line. They smashed forward on this front for a distance of about a quarter of a mile through the powerful field works on the western front. Last night they had counted more than 650 prisoners.

The village of Fleury was attacked from two sides, the northwest and southeast. In previous attacks the French had advanced as far as the ruined railway station against furious resistance. Then, after the big guns had been given time to clear a path, the infantry again swept forward, this time to complete victory.

All the gains made by the Germans in their attacks of Tuesday have been swept away. In an attack simultaneous with that on Fleury, the French in the Chenois sector, drove the Teutons from the trenches they had seized in this wooded region, captured more prisoners. Berlin previously had admitted the loss of ground recently taken in Laufee forest.

In the last three days the French have captured more than 1,750 unwounded prisoners. They have also taken a large quantity of military supplies. But from all indications they have done far more than that With the descent of the lull on the Somme, the Germans seriously resumed their operations against Verdun They had large forces at their disposal and all of their powerful artillery. But before they could get well under way the French launched their counter-offensive.

The French have regained a footing on two of the most important heights which look down on Verdun—Pepper Hill and the Froid Terre. The crest of the former is a No Man's Land being constantly swept by shell fire But from the latter the Germans hold artillery control of the heart of Verdun. They made much of the capture of Froid Terre, declaring it the most important position on the northeastern front. Now the French are working their way up to the crest again. The statement tonight from the War Office at Paris reports that French troops are fighting at the edges of Hill No. 320, one of the heights of the Froid Terre ridge.

That French troops have penetrated the German lines on Monacu Farm, in the region of the River Somme, and have taken a trench section to the north of that position.

In the region north of the fortress of Verdun, the announcement adds, the French have recaptured a trench section which they had lost in the Laufee wood.

HAVOC BY CLOUDBURST.

Many Deaths in Kentucky and Tennessee During Past Few Days

Middlesboro, Ky., Aug. 4—While the waters which overran the banks of Big Barren Creek, near Tazewell, Tenn., late Wednesday night and early yesterday have not receded and have impeded the work of recovering bodies and rescue, yet it has been definitely established that the lives of 60 people are known to have been lost as the result of the cloudburst.

Rescue parties returning from the stricken district report that the water is all over the little valley of Big Barren Creek and that apparently every home along the creek for a distance of six miles has been washed away.

WORK TO AVERT RAILROAD STRIKE

Interested Agencies of Government Hope to Succeed

WILSON MAY APPEAL

Senate Committee Will Decide Today Whether Hearings Will be Held in The Matter

New York, Aug. 4—Demands of approximately 30,000 members of the Switchmen's Union of America for increased wages and shorter hours, made in Chicago in March, are being discussed in this city by representatives of the union and the railroads affected, it was learned last night. The conference, which has been in progress more than a week, is private.

Nineteen railroads are represented at the conference, including the New York Central, the Baltimore and Ohio and the Rock Island.

New York, Aug. 4—Seventy-five per cent of the ballots cast by more than 400,000 railroad employees of the United States in the vote on the general strike has been counted by the special board of tellers in this city yesterday afternoon. Timothy Shea, asistant president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, in charge of the work, declared that of these 300,000, almost all, favored a strike.

The count probably will not be completed until next Monday.

A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, and W. H. Lee, of the trainmen's organization, arrived here yesterday, and it is expected that conferences similar to those of the National Railway Committee will be held to determine a course of action for the joint meeting Tuesday.

Washington, Aug. 4—While the strike vote of 400,000 railroad employes was being counted in New York, every agency of the Federal Government affected by the situation was preparing yesterday to do all possible to avert a final break between the railroads and the workmen.

William L. Chambers, commissioner of the Board of Mediation and Conciliation, was in communication with President Wilson during the day though board officials pointed out that nothing of a formal character could be done until the railroad managers and representatives of the employes resumed negotiations next week.

A call was issued for a meeting today of the Senate Commerce Committee to decide whether hearings will be held on Chairman Newland's resolution proposing an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission of hours of labor on railroads and urging the employers and employes to postpone a settlement of their differences until a report can be made The question of hours of labor constitutes one of the chief causes of the threatened strike.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which appealed to President Wilson for Federal intervention to prevent a strike, is urging action on the resolution. The Chamber is considering calling a conference of representatives of commercial organizations to impress on Congress the necessity of taking some immediate steps.

The President late yesterday designated W. W. Hanger, assistant commissioner of the Board of Mediation and Counciliation, as a member of the Board. The law stipulates that there shall be three members, but Judge Martin A. Knapp, chairman, and William L. Chambers, commissioners, have served alone because an official of the Department of Labor, designated as the third member when the board was formed, was not qualified for the place.

Judge Knapp and Mr. Chambers asked the President to increase the membership because the work of the board already has become great and the threatened railroad strike has added to the necessity of having another member.

Administration officials said everything possible would be done to avert a strike. If all other steps fail, it is probable President Wilson will make a personal appeal to railroad managers and the employes urging them to effect a settlement in the interest of the public. The question may be discussed at tomorrow's Cabinet meeting.

Survivors report that a submarine was observed at a distance of about 6,000 meters. It fired a warning shot and then gave chase, firing continuously for half an hour.

It finally overtook the Letimbro, which had begun to lower boats.

MILLIONS OF INTANGIBLES

Aggregate Amount Reported Reach Sum of $12,438,387.

MUCH MORE IN HIDING

Tax Authorities Believe From $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 Will be Uncovered

Richmond, Aug. 4. — Executive Assistant Garnett's call for reports to the Tax Board of omitted intangibles returned voluntarily by residents of Virginia has brought from the Examiners of Records statements showing that a total of $12,438,387 of this class of property has been voluntarily reported for taxation.

Under the new law relating to omitted intangibles persons were allowed this year only to report this class of property for taxation up to Aug. 1, without penalty. The period of grace expired Monday.

The fact that nearly $12,500,00, in omitted inangibles has been reported voluntarily is taken by tax officers to mean that several times that amount will ultimately be brought under taxation through the investigations of the examiners. The aggregate value of omitted intangibles which still remain in hiding, and which should properly be made to bear its share of tax, was estimated by authorities at between $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

The examiners who have made reports of voluntary returns and the amounts reported by each follow:

Richard McIlwane, jr., Second Circuit, $1,095,500.

Robert W. Arnold, Third Circuit, $40,903.

George Mason, Fourth Circuit, $29,025.

Persons Buying Railroad Brasses, Iron, Etc., May be Sent to The Penitentiary

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that junk dealers and others who purchase railroad brasses, iron, etc., from any persons save the manufacturers thereof are liable to serve terms in the penitentiary. For years railroad companies in this city have suffered annoyance and loss from thieves who carry off and break up journal brasses and dispose of the same as junk. Such parts of the garing of trains is costly. and often such appliances which have cost the company from $25 to $30 are sold for less than $1. For the information of all interested we desire to call attention to the following section from the code of Virginia:

"If any person buy or receive pig iron, brass, metal or any composition thereof with intent to defraud, he shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than two years, or, in the discretion of the jury, in jail not exceeding one year. Possession of any pig iron or railroad iron, brass, metal or composition thereof, so bought or received from any person other than the manufacturer thereof shall be prima facie evidence of such intent."

The work of rifling unoccupied houses in Alexandria is always in progress. In many instances where house have remained tenantless for a few weeks the owners of real estate agents having them in charge have been exasperated upon opening the houses for the purpose of showing then to prospective renters to find that all the lead pipes are missing, such having been broken off in the cellars and carried away. The agent of a fine residence on Cameron street complained to the authorities yesterday of the work of thieves. The leaden pipes had been cut and other damage done which will require considerable expenditure before the house can be rented.

There is no doubt that most of these acts are committed by boys, and if there were no buyers of such articles there would be no sellers. It certainly should occur to junk dealers that juveniles who bring such articles to their shops have not come by them honestly.

The keeper of a garage complained recently that a part of the appliance to an automobile costing $17 had been stolen, and the authorities upon investigation were satisfied that a boy disposed of the stolen property for less than twenty-five cents. It was another of those tantalizing cases where it was impossible to secure evidence which would have convicted.

The following is taken from the code of Virginia, which, it is hoped all interested will read, as it is manifest that some one must be made to pay the full penalty of the law should a case be made clear against him or here:

"If any person buy or receive second-hand grate baskets, keys, bells fixtures, gas fixtures, water fixtures, water pipes, gas pipes, or any part of such fixtures or pipes with intent to defraud, he shall be confined in jail not less than one month nor more than six months. Possession of any of such articles shall be prima facie evidence of such intent."

MEETING OF TRUSTEES

Permits Will Be Issued September 5th and Schools Reopened on The 11th.

The regular monthly meeting of the City School Board was held last night. There were present: Chairman Bradshaw and Messrs. Kirk, Perry, Cox, Lunt, Monroe, Howard, Anderson and Thompson. Superintendent Sweeney was also present.

Mr. Perry, of the committee on school houses and furniture, reported that the work of preparing the school buildings for the coming session was being pushed. The finance committee of the City Council, he said, had agreed to recommend an appropriation of $750 for repairs and alterations in the Howell building on the Washington school grounds.

Superintendent Sweeney in reply ot a question, stated that 2218 white scholars will attend the schools this year.

A communication was received from Miss Florence Buford, declining the position of teacher. She had been elected at the July meeting.

Miss Josephine Waite, of Alexandria county, was nominated, as was also Miss Margaret Willett, the latter having been a candidate at the last meeting, but, for some reason, her name was not presented at that time.

Miss Waite was elected by a vote of 5 to 4.

Several petitions from teachers for increases in salaries were referred to the finance committee.

It was decided to begin issuing permits for entrance to the schools on Tuesday, September 5, and to reopen the schools on the 11th. The schools will close June 18, 1917.

After the disposal of some miscellaneous business the board adjourned shortly before ten o'clock.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND.

Any donations from the public will be gladly accepted.

LETTER FROM THE CAMP

Alexandria Boys Discomfitted By Heavy Rains and Texas Mosquitoes

In a letter from a member of Company G. First Virginia Infantry, in speaking of conditions in the camp on the Mexican border ,the writer says:

"We have reveille at 5a. m. and breakfast at 6 a. m., and a hike of five miles every day except Friday, when we have a hike of twelve miles; then seven hours of drill and one hour of school. The men of company G are developing into fine soldiers, and one would not believe them the same who left Alexandria in June. It is pretty rough here now; terrible rains, and mosquitoes are frightful. Brownsville has a population of about 18,000, and about 12,000 are Mexicans. Mexicans are the most terrible creatures one can imagine, and they glare at soldiers when they pass by. They are the only laborers to be had, and the only clean one I have seen is my wash woman. Mexico is a wonderful country, and when it is developed it will be the richest in the world. The coyotes are very troublesome at night. You have to change your clothes from the skin out every day, and practically all the men are getting bald who have been here any length of time. The men are all well and have no complaint to make against their treatment."

Charles S. Davis, of Denver, was elected supreme vice-chancellor of the Knights of Pythias yesterday by the Supreme Lodge, at Portland, Ore. The position leads automatically to the highest office within the gift of the order.

KING EIGHT CYLINDER CAR DOES STUNTS.

Climbs Hill, Crosses Ditch and Conquers Sand at Fort Myer .

With officers from the United States army and United States marine corps and several congressmen as spectators, an armored automobile built by the Armored Motor Car Company, of Detroit, under the auspices of Capt. Ross, was put through a severe test at Fort Myer yesterday afternoon.

The superstructure, which provides room for three men and a driver, with a machine gun and a revolving turret, is mounted on a King chassis with an eight-cylinder engine.

The first stunt was climbing Thirty-fifth street hill from M to N streets from a standing start. This grade was negotiated successfully.

Next the long, washed-out sand hill leading off the Fort Myer military road was attempted with the car landing in the ditch half way up on the first trial

It got itself out of this predicament with its own power and made the second climb easily and without any difficulty.

The third test was the crossing of a deep ditch partially filled with water at the foot of a deep ravine in the rear of the artillery camp. With the front of the car plowing up the mud on the far bank the 4,200 pounds of automobile and Harveyized steel went down one side and up the other with the hearty applause of a hundred-odd civilians and soldiers.

The last feat was the circling of the parade grounds at a speed of 40 miles per hour loaded with soldiers.

The officers inspecting the car were profuse in their praise of the action of the car.

We will gladly give a demonstration of these cars at any time.

NOT PURPOSE TO DESTROY GERMANY.

The Kaiser in a recent proclamation said:

"With God's gracious help I am convinced that the future deeds of the German soldiers will equal those of the past and present in your determination to fight against the enemy that seeks to destroy the German nation."

As the Baltimore American asks, is there any disposition upon the part of the Allies to destroy Germany? If such exists it has not found expression. They have declared their purpose to destroy German militarism; and this is exactly the firm purpose held by the German socialists prior to the outbreak of the war. So that this intention is not tantamount to an intention to destroy Germany. In fact, some of the most responsible public men of England have declared that Germany should not be deprived of its place in the family of nations, and should be permitted and encouraged to hold its colonies and to develop its resources. The war upon the side of the Allies, if declarations of their leading men may be given credence, is a war to break down a military caste. It may be confidently asserted that proportionate reduction of their armament may the gladly entered upon by the Allies if victorious. So if Germany is fighting for the integrity of its territory, for the integrity of its intrinsic ideals or the integrity of its world opportunity, it appears to be fighting for a chimera—as these apparently are not menaced. The faculty for misapprehension, that characteristic of the Government set in Germany, seems not to have been lessened by the experiences of the war.

According to the Kaiser, although "a desire for sunshine and peace is stirring in all human hearts, the war continues because the battle cry of the enemy governments is still the destruction of Germany. Blame for further bloodshed falls only on our enemies."

The Richmond Times-Dispatch says if this emanated from a personage less conspicious, it would be branded as unadulterated droll. If the allied governments still seek the destruction of Germany, as is alleged, they have at least ceased to say so. Premier Asquith has declared in Parliament that allied terms of peace are the recession to France of Alsace and Lorraine, freedom and restitution for Belgium and Serbia, recognition of Italy's national aspirations and such an adjustment of the Polish problem as will do justice and offer reasonable guarantees of lasting peace.

This involves no destruction of Germany. As to Poland, Germany herself has promised Polish autonomy, of course under a Hohenzollern prince, while Alsace and Lorraine are recently were wrested from France and pine too unkindly for restitution to have become an essential part of the German imperial entity.

The Kaiser sees his dreams dissolving, and he fights now for the affection of his people, as well as for the favorable judgment of history. He is in a fair way to lose both.

CASE OF SIR ROGER CASEMENT.

Papers of this country generally admit that the British Government, after having executed many others connected with the recent Irish uprising who were far less culpable than Sir Roger Casement, could not, with any sort of consistency, have mitigated his sentence. He was bound to die because others of smaller importance had been put to death. His offense, considered from a British point of view, was far more serious than that of the Sinn Feiners at home.

Great Britain's own injustice and oppression, a contemporary suggests, are responsible for the bitterness with which thousands of Irishmen regard her, and yet she continues to feed the ancient grudge which her own policy created and has kept alive. She treats Ireland as a conquered nation and at the same time holds her to the patriotic allegiance that she expects of an English shire.

Great in diplomacy in every other part of the world, she deals with Ireland only to blunder. The English-Irish feud has lasted longer than any other racial feud known to history. And England has herself largely to blame for it. Sir Roger Casement adds another to the long and sinister blacklist which Ireland counts up against England. Perhaps the time may come when upon Ireland's loyalty may depend the fate of the British Empire. Stranger things have been known to history.

Macaulay in his history of England refers to British blunders which caused the loss of North America and made of Ireland a withered branch of a great empire. These assertions have never been refuted.

RUSSIA'S VAST RESOURCES.

Russia has between 9,000,000 and 10,000,000 perfectly trained and armed men available for the front, and every year 1,500,000 boys become of military age and are eager to join the army, declares Dr. E. S. Dickey, who has returned to Pittsburgh, Pa., from the European war, a colonel of the Russian army Medical Corps.

Dr. Dickey said there are 750,000 men in the army of the Caucasus and 4,000,000 on the Russian western front. Rusia can lose every man now in action and immediately duplicate its forces from the mobilization camps.

Inspired by the ideal of granting to the great masses of people of broader political rights, the Russian troops are now fighting with a patriotic spirit unknown to the world, Dr. Dickey said. The nobles have awakened, the returned Colonel declared, and the people likely will be given at the end of the war a greater freedom than they would ask for.

When the war began, only one-half of the Russian troops could be armed. Soldiers went into battle with the instructions to wait until a comrade fell and then take his gun and fight. Now, Colonel Dickey says, there are guns for every man in action. Arms were secured from the United States and Japan. Throughout all Russia the aristocracy has had an awakening, and the sentiment among the Russian nobility is overwhelmingly in favor of liberating the peasants from their former oppressed state and educating them.

THE RETURN VOYAGE.

The Baltimore Sun in commenting upon the departure of the German submarine Deutschland says; "we wish her good luck and safe deliverance from the thousand eyes and arms of her powerful enemy. Not because she is German, not because her escape would annoy and irritate Great Britain, but because she is a human proposition, because she represents in a high degree human heroism, human self-sacrifice, human devotion to ideals. The Deutschland is the expression of German patriotism. We cannot look upon hers without being stimulated in our own. She has given us an object-lesson in love of country, and the pulse of American patriotism beats quicker by reason of the generous emulation which her dash across the seas inspires. We cannot say, Hoch the Kaiser, but we do say, Hoch the Deutschland, because she has performed a gallant exploit that stirs the red blood in every manly heart.

The crew of the Deutschland cheered America before passing out of the capes, expressive of the appreciation of the many courtesies received while the boat lay in the harbor of Baltimore.

PUSSYFOOT ON THE LUSITANIA

(Philadelphia Record)

Some of the voters resent the tone of President Wilson's letter to Germany in reference to the sinking of the Lusitania, Falaba, Gulflight, Sussex and a few others. Some of the voters denounce the President because he did nothing but send notes. Mr. Hughes needs the votes of both classes. How could he satisfy one class without alienating the other? How could he denounce the President for interfering with Germany's submarine campaign, and also denounce the President for not doing something that would have made Germany stop it?

"Ah," said the subtle Charles Evans Hughes, "I have it! If I denounce the sinking of the Lusitania I shall alienate the German-American Alliance. If I don't denounce it, Mr. Roosevelt, sitting in the box over there, will not lead the applause for me. I have it! I will denounce the President for not preventing the sinking of the Lusitania. Everybody is sorry the Lusitania was sunk. I can escape saying anything about Germany by confining my condemnation to the President. Everybody whose vote I can hope for is against the President. By condemning the President for not preventing the sinking of the Lusitania I can get the support of Theodore Roosevelt and Henry Weissman."

And that is what Mr. Hughes did. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure in a political speech, especially when the cure is regarded by some of the men whose votes the candidate seeks as poison. Mr. Hughes carefully avoided the submarine campaign and the steps the President ought to have taken after its commencement, and stuck to the safe course of denouncing the President for not preventing the sinking of the Lusitania.

He was very cunning, but he did not meet the issue, and he will impose on very few voters. Why should any Democrat with German antecedents or sympathies vote for Mr. Hughes? He says the President ought to have done something—he does not indicate what—that would have deterred the German Government from its submarine campaign. To the German sympathizers is this any less objectionable than the notes of protest which the President caused to be sent to Berlin? What is the use of punishing Mr. Wilson by electing a man who is either practicing deception and evasion, or who would have done even more than Mr. Wilson did?

Dr. Hexamer and Mr. Roosevelt wish precisely opposite things. Mr. Hughes is trying to get the support of both. That is enough to discredit a man's intellectual honesty. Mr. Hughes is trying to impose on one side or the other. He is trying to condemn Mr. Wilson for the satisfaction of the German-American Alliance, and to intimate that he would do even more, in order to please the voters represented by Mr. Roosevelt. Any Democrat with German sympathies can see that he would be jumping from the frying pan into the fire to substitute Mr. Hughes for Mr. Wilson.

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL

American League

Those victorious Red Sox, from the beaneating burg of Boston, were taken into camp by the lowly Brownies, from St. Louis, who are playing high-class ball now, yesterday and as a result Chicago White Sox today occupy the American League lead, by the narrow margin of half a game or three points, the same difference, however, that has been between the Red Sox and the White Sox all during the week, while the Red Sox were at the head of the club standing.

Another change in standing occurred also, that being the ousting of the Yanks, who are dropping games steadily now, to the fourth place position, while the Indians from Cleveland take New York's place.

As a result of yesterday's happenings in this league also Wshington Nationals were put half a game further behind the Tigers and the Brownies, defeating Boston, creeped within close enough distance of them to oust them from sixth place, if Washington loses and the Brownies win today. The Nationals did not play yesterday, rain putting an end to their game with the White Sox in the second inning.

St. Louis has now won thirteen consecutive games.

Yesterday's scores:

Bowling is a popular amusement with Alexandrians during the summer weather, despite the heat, and large crowds patronize the bowling alleys of the Alexandria Amusement Company, on King street, where teams, organized among regular patrons of the alleys, play off scheduled games nightly.

Judging from the activity of the different committees, Old Dominion Boat Club's regatta of August 12 will be quite a gay affair. The regatta committee, composed of Harry Wingate, James S. Douglas, jr., Carl J. Mueller, and Ashby Reardon, as announced in the Gazette yesterday, are at work in shaping the program, which will be announced in the Gazette in a few days.

Cardinal Athletic Club's baseball team will leave for Annapolis, Md., tomorrow to line up against the plebe nine of the United States Naval Academy, which averages 16 to 18 years of age. Sweeney is slated to do slab duty for the local nine. Monday's Gazette will carry the account of the game, owing to the fact that we publish no Sunday edition.

Brownsville, Tex., August 4. — Company G, First Regiment, Virginia Volunteers, known to the residents of this city as the Alexandria Light Infantry have organized a strong baseball team, having received equipment from R. E. Knight and Sons, of Alexandria, their home town, and last week defeated a team known as the Texas Lunch, composed mostly of Spaniards and Mexicans.

Newton did pitching honors, for the soldier boys and held his opponents down to two scattered hits, although the Texans managed to garner two tallies wth these two hits. The score was 5 to 2.

VOTING FOR STRIKE

Four Hundred Thousand Railroad Men Vote to Quit Work.

New York, Aug. 4—Sixty-per cent of the 400,000 ballots cast by eastern and southern railway employes on a question of a national strike indicated that the vote would be almost unanimous for the strike.

Western and southwestern ballots will be brought to this city Friday to be tabulated. Advance reports from these sections indicate almost unanimous sentiment for the strike.

Announcement of the strike figures will be made next Tuesday at a conference between the heads of the four railroad brotherhoods and the representatives of the national conference committee of railways.

"It is a foregone conclusion the vote of the 400,000 members of the railroad brotherhoods will be for strike", declared Timothy Shea, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, tonight.

"The western vote is practically complete, and is for a strike. The vote of the South is also for a strike."

Asked if he predicted the strike call, Mr. Shea said the strike question depended on the railroad managers and their attitude in the conference next week.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The State Corporation Commission, in an opinion handed down by Judge Prentis, this week ordered the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia and the Augusta County Farmers Mutual Telephone Company forthwith to connect their telephone exchanges with each other for the interchange of messages between their subscribers, provided the petitioner for connection, the Augusta County Farmers Mutual Telephone Company, indicates its desire to do so upon terms fixed by the commission.

Announcement has been made at the Richmond offices of the American Locomotive Company that the Richmond branch is about to begin work on the manufacture of six, eight and nine and two-tenths-inch high explosive shells for the use of the entente allies and that it will probably employ between 3,500 and 4,000 men. The contracts, which were closed last month, are sufficient to keep the plant operating on full capacity until the spring months. All of the old organization, used in the manufacture of shrapnel, will be continued at work.
